A Student's Nightmare

24 September 2023

Category: Literary

*As I open my book to read
My eyes feel like they bleed
No, they are not tears
For I have nothing to fear*

*I speed through the lines
Through formulas and cosines
Question after question
Flying through the last session*

*I make a blunder
The answer turns me into thunder
Such an obvious error
The question paper will drive me into terror*

*Two hours left for the exam
I think to myself "Is this a sham?"
I study and get up
Pouring water in a cup*

*Sitting down to take a sip
What I saw next made my heart dip
As I read my notes to revise
I realized that I will soon meet my demise*

*Hours of effort with no fruit
All my preparation has gone to moot
As I leave the exam room with nothing to say
I think to myself "Perhaps if there was just one more day..."*
